Quickie 1:

"The jobs picture for men in their prime working years (between ages 25 and 54) is [bleak]. Only 80% of those men have a job (compared to 95% in the 1960s). Even that statistic doesn't measure the millions of men of that age who are now working for one half, or one quarter, or even one tenth of the wage of the job they lost. Obama brags that the economy added 268,000 new jobs in April, but 62,000 of those were hired by McDonald's because Obama gave that chain a waiver from ObamaCare."

-- "Who Will Answer the Jobs Question?" The Phyllis Schlafly Report, June 2011, page 3.

Quickie 2:

"It appears that the U.S. Justice Department and the ATF are engaged in a massive cover up of Operation Fast and Furious, the failed ATF sting operation that may have been used to advance the Obama Administration's drive for an international treaty to ban firearms. The lying must stop; justice must be served; and the perpetrators punished!"

-- "GOA Demands Independent Counsel to Investigate Operation Fast and Furious," included in a recent mailing from Larry Pratt, executive director, Gun Owners of America.

Did You Know?

"According to FBI statistics, here are the top ten most dangerous cities in America, based on the rate of murders, rapes, and assaults per 1,000 population: Flint, Michigan, 22 violent crimes per 1,000; Detroit, 18; St. Louis, Missouri, 17.5; New Haven, Connecticut, 15.8; Memphis, 15.4; Oakland, California, 15.3; Little Rock, 15.2; Baltimore, 14.6; Rockford, Illinois, 14.5; Stockton, California 13.8."

Factoid

"[O]ne quarter of America's ERs shuttered over the last 20 years. ER patients, however, have increased by 35 percent. The result? Overcrowded emergency rooms. To manage patient loads, ambulances are rerouted to other hospitals. This diversion results in 3 avoidable deaths for every 100 ER patients, and is especially dangerous for heart attack victims who need every possible minute for lifesaving intervention." [ObamaCare will make matters worse.]

-- "Overcrowding Costs Lives," MaxNews, NewsMax magazine, August 2011, page 90.

Item

"So many newborn babies are being abandoned by their teenage mothers in NYC where a majority of the population is foreign born, that officials want the city's high schools to include lessons on how
